

Here are a few utterances from the lips of Parson Brownlow, at a Public Meeting held in New York, on the 23d ult., on behalf of the Society for aiding sick and wounded soldiers.

"If I had the power, Sir, I would arm and uniform in the Federal habiliments every wolf, and panther, and catamount, and tiger, and bear, in the mountains of America; every crocodile in the swamps of Florida and South Carolina; every negro in the Southern Confederacy, and every devil in hell and pandemonium.

"This war, I say to you, must be prosecuted with a vim and a vengeance, until the Rebellion is put down, if it exterminates from the face of God Almighty's green earth, every man, woman, and child south of Mason and Dixon's line. (Cheers.)

"You have not felt the effects of the war in the loyal States, but you are going to now. I know that little man Grant—he is the right man in the right place. I am willing to see Richmond captured by him; but if I had my choice, I should choose that Richmond and Charleston should be taken alone by negro troops, commanded by Butler the Beast.

"Sherman has the finest army in all the world—not less than 150,000, all told. He is gradually advancing into the heart of the Southern States. He will take that country. Grant will take Richmond. And we will crowd the Rebels, and crowd them until I trust in God we will rush them into the Gulf of Mexico, and drown the entire race as the devil did the hogs in the Sea of Gallilee.

"When we come out of the war we will come out with 500,000 or 600,000 of the best of soldiers, who have got their hand in, and would as soon have their hands in a little longer as not. Then I am in favour of giving Old England a turn. (Cheers.)

"We can whip the Southern Confederacy; we can take in France and England and the whole civilized world, and I want to carry it on until we whip out all God's creation."

The jubulations in Mexico, in honor of the new Emperor, continue.

DIED.

At the Ballard House, Richmond, of typhoid pneumonia, on the 29th of June, in his 24th year, Lieutenant HARRY WHITE, formerly of Alexandria, late Lieutenant of company D, Department Guard, reserve forces for local defence. His funeral took place on Friday morning, July 1st, at 10 o'clock, from Rev. Dr. Duncan's church.

Cut off in the freshness of early manhood, yet not too soon for a display of all the manly virtues, he has left behind much to console his friends under their painful bereavement. His memory will long be cherished by those who knew him best.

Of paralysis, on Tuesday, 28th instant, at his late residence, in Powhatan county, Mr. WM. A. TURPIN, in 79th year of his age.

At Norfolk, Va., June 9th, after a long illness, GEORGE W. FARANT, esq., in the 53d year of his age.

FOR SALE.—The advertiser having no further use for a DONKEY, CART and HARNESS, and a one-horse CARRIAGE, will sell them low for cash. TO PREVENT SICKNESS, PURIFY THE BLOOD!

NOTHING is more wholesome at this time of year, than a gentle purgative. It will purify the blood and digestive organs, and enable the system the better to endure the warm season to come. For this purpose we would advise every one in quest of sound health, to try a box of Prof. Wundram's Vegetable Pills or Powders, which have proved so salutary the past two seasons, to all who tried them.

For sale at most Druggists. See advertisement in another column. ap 30—2m
